The Good Sports!

This has been a sports-oriented week, and thus a fitting occasion to honor not only the participants, but the "stars" who aren't on the program ... we heartily commend them for their time and efforts dedicated to promoting good sportsmanship (and a good time) throughout the year. These are the loyal members of the Mattapoissett Sports Committee, the Boosters Club, the faculties, town officials, and parents and friends who give generously of their talents and enthusiasm.

entry in the State Junior Miss Pageant this week-end. Christine Hayward is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hayward of Marion. Chris presently is a senior at Old Rochester Regional High School and upon her graduation would like to further her career in Art and Music by attending Massachusetts School of Art, Boston.

While keeping a very busy schedule, Chris has been preparing herself for the State title in many areas. At the moment her talent presentation will show the judges just a little of how creative and talented Chris really is -- this Junior Miss enjoys writing, music, playing the guitar, painting, sculpturing and interior decorating. For her talent presentation Chris has written the words and music which she will accompany herself on the guitar. One of her pieces of sculpture and possibly her paintings will be a background part of her talent entry.

Chris will "sign in" on Thursday to begin three packed full days of rehearsals, interviews and two nights of preliminary con-

Mr. Naviaux said that it is a coach's greatest satisfaction to see a young athlete realize the potential that is in him; to see a player with the heart to match or surpass his natural abilities. Another great reward, he said, is seeing his seniors graduate with the degrees that they came to the university to earn. Boston University is now developing its sports program so that it is fielding teams that are receiving national recognition. Coach Naviaux told of the thrill of participating in the bowl games for young players.

Football coach, Girard Oliva, said that the disastrous season just completed contained many otherwise memorable moments for him. He would always remember, he said, the welcome awarded to him and his family by the people in the community. During the '69 season, he would remember how he asked a freshman player with 3 weeks' experience to step in and run his team and how that young quarterback (Paul "Bucky" Rielly) came through for him. He would always recall, he said, how a very few experienced senior and junior players carried a heavy load while freshmen and sophomores filled the bulk of the positions and gave their best with limited experience and maturity. He would remember the cheerleaders always yelling encouragement even through their tears to give heart to the team. Coach Oliva said that the young boys who started the season finished it as men. He thanked the men of the Boosters Club for the fine new press box and for their help in conditioning the boys which is now going on as they are engaged in a weight

Salute to Courage

Editorial

To win is sweet. Winning is the reward for hard work, the all purpose balm for aches and the warm glow after a maximum effort. The Old Rochester football team of 1969 never tasted victory. The Bulldogs were clobbered every week. They were back the next. It was painful to watch, rather like a coliseum event - early Christians versus the lions. They never tasted victory but they did win something - respect. Quitters may win but no quitter can lose repeatedly and keep coming back. This team earned their self-respect and that of everyone who pulled for them. There were memorable individual efforts and some performances by the team that almost came off.

Old Rochester now has the most experienced young team in the league and the hungriest. There is no where to go but up. No one questions that the desire is there. The raw courage has been demonstrated. These are the two basics that you can't learn. Along with Coach Jerry Oliva, all of us look to 1970 with a great deal of interest and lots of anticipation. The crowds that continued to turn out all through the 1969 season to support the team in defeat will return to support them in victory. These are no "foul weather friends".

CRUISING WITH MERCHANT MARINE

Last week's report on the State Maritime Academy's southern cruise featured the first year students (third class cadets) but neglected to salute an "old hand", out for his second voyage. He is Second Class Cadet Michael Collyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Collyer, Holly Lane, Mattapoisett.

The captain of the training ship has reported to the parents that the trip to South

FUDGE IS DATE BAIT

A young cook's first efforts in the kitchen usually involve candies and cookies. The simpler and more foolproof the recipe, the greater the chance that her success will spark even more interest in things culinary. With this easy Mallow Fudge, she'll not have to fuss with a candy thermometer, soft ball tests, or long cooling time. Semi-sweet chocolate makes it rich and dark — very good for impressing new friends!

MALLOW FUDGE

2 cups sugar	¼ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup evaporated milk	1 package (8 squares) Baker's
9 marshmallows, cut into eighths*	Semi-Sweet Chocolate

* Or use 1 cup marshmallow topping.

Combine sugar, evaporated milk, marshmallows, and butter in saucepan. Place over low heat, stirring until sugar is dissolved and marshmallows are melted. Bring to a boil and boil 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Add chocolate and stir until chocolate is partially melted. Remove from heat; stir rapidly until chocolate is entirely melted. Pour into buttered 9-inch square pan. Cool 1 hour or more. Cut into squares. Makes about 2 pounds or 5 dozen squares.

Bandstand Discussed

BAND COMMITTEE MEETING

In accordance with the previously announced intention to invite persons who in the past have served on a bandstand building committee in this area, the Mattapoisett Band Committee welcomed Miss Elizabeth Hastings and Mr. Lazarus Alexion of Fairhaven. They spoke on the many advantages that their particular type of structure affords the townspeople of Fairhaven. Miss Hastings listed a number of events that, due in great measure to the fine acoustics, have been held. A fine bandstand, she felt, should be built with multi-purposes in mind. In the discussion that followed it was also noted that the appearance of the structure was of important consequence.

Present, in addition to the town-appointed members of the Mattapoissett Band Committee, were several interested townspeople. They were: Dr. Donald Nahigyan, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fountain, Mr. Donald Chase, Mr. William Wood and Mr. Donald Jason. Dr. Nahigyan is president of the Mattapoissett Lions Club and Mr. Jason is publisher of the weekly paper, Presto Press.

P.T.C. Friday

PARENT-TEACHERS' MEETING

Sex education in schools will be the subject of the Mattapoisett PTC meeting on Friday, January 23rd, at 8 o'clock at Old Hammondtown School.

The speaker will be New Bedford born Anita Charpentier, a former St. Luke's Hospital staff nurse and presently the health educator for the Newton public school. Miss Charpentier has developed almost singlehandedly a health education program affecting boys and girls from the kindergarten level through grade six. Eventually this program will extend through senior high.

A school program, such as this one, has been organized to complement or supplement what is being done at home, not to replace parental instruction.

There will be two films shown related to the subject and Miss Charpentier will outline topics covered, grade by grade. This will be followed by a discussion period and refreshments.

TOBEY HOSPITAL GUILD MEETING

The Tobey Hospital Guild will meet on Thursday afternoon, January 29th, at the Nurses' Home. Mrs. Lionel Sequeira, R.N., of Marion, will be the speaker. Her subject will be "The Visiting Nurse".

Eight cents from every box will go directly to the troop treasury of the Girl Scout who sells the cookies. This money will give added scope and depth to the troop program for such projects as equipment, service and other important activities.
